Marcello Annicchiarico

Senior Frontend Developer Specialized in Interface Design and Generative UI

I’ve spent the last decade turning complex business puzzles into elegant, high-performance digital experiences. My sweet spot is at the intersection of scalable design systems and the future of AI; I specialize in LLM-driven workflows, using agents like Gemini and Claude to build interfaces that aren't just reactive, but generative. For me, it’s all about bridging the gap between heavy technical logic and the effortless user experience people actually deserve.
